

Getting to know f.lori.sh

A look inside our heart and mind.

Prepared with love and thought!

HELLO,

My name is Lori Hite and I am so glad we connected! I started this venture hoping to meet brides and help them through this crazy process all while having fun! I have been in your shoes and know the stress and tears that come along with planning such a big event, but here we are going to laugh and celebrate you every step of the way! I want you to feel special and loved as you should be on your wedding day, and the best way I know how to do that is by serving you. I love flowers and how they can transform a space entirely into something magical. I want to be your friend and helper through this, as well as your florist/event coordinator of course!

A little about me is I love puppies, watching tv with snacks, shopping, comedies, musicals, candy, going on adventures, Sunday afternoon naps, and really anything... I'm just here for a good time!

All this to say, just know you are loved here and prayed for every step of the way! So let's plan a wedding!

Love,

Lori Hite

Our Mission

To help bring your vision to life in a fun and energetic way.

We hope to leave you feeling like there was someone always on your side and cared about your day as much, if not more than you!

We hope to spread Christ's love to all people through arranging his creations in a way that helps complete your covenant with your spouse! It is such a beautiful union and we are honored to serve you!

Why should you be a f.lori.sh bride?

Because you deserve to have your dreams come true without the stress!!!

A f.lori.sh bride is the girl who wants a personal and unique floral experience. Someone who wants something different, but still wants to have a budget!

A f.lori.sh bride is the girl who wants a personal and unique floral experience. Someone who wants something different, but still wants to have a budget!

A f.lori.sh bride is respected for her hard work and ideas and is ready for this next chapter. She is valued and cared for.

A f.lori.sh bride is someone who gets overwhelmed and needs a breath a fresh air every now and then.

A f.lori.sh bride is someone looking to have the best time at her wedding, who radiates joy because she knows f.lori.sh has her back no matter what

A f.lori.sh bride gets to have her dream wedding without spending the amount it would take to buy a car, but understands + values the hard work put into her wedding.

A f.lori.sh bride can be you!

But what makes f.lori.sh different than other florists?

My heart behind starting f.lori.sh is to give brides a luxury experience for a fraction of the cost so that anyone can have a wedding they always dreamed of. Having paid for a wedding myself along with my now-husband, we know how fast everything adds up and how frustrating it can be paying vendors so much to get the bare minimum. I don't want that to be the case.

I love to serve people. I believe I am called to love and serve others, and honestly, this is the best way I know how. I want to be there for you when you're freaking out that your DJ just fell through. I want to hear all about your color scheme and small details. Most importantly, I want to serve you on your wedding day in a way that helps you relax and savor every single moment.

This experience is unlike any other. It's the start of your life with your other half. You should not spend the day freaking out about a single thing in my opinion, and if you allow me to be a part of your day, you won't.

I know it's an investment, but I promise to serve and love you and your family with everything I got. I will work hard, and sweat harder so you don't have to do anything but soak in every single moment of your wedding day. I may not be the cheapest option on your list, but you will not regret investing in this small business!

SO... WHAT NOW???

Fill out our inquiry form and we will get moving on creating your special event! It may take a few days, but this just means I am putting that much thought and love into this process! LET'S DO THIS FLORAL THING!
